

Wildlands and Graduation Destinations.

The chart below reports on the post-secondary destinations for Wildlands graduates. As of the spring of 2013, 52 students had graduated from Wildlands. At current enrollment levels approximately 10 students per year will be graduating.

The survey of graduates was conducted to find out where they went after graduation, what were they doing, and did they finish post-secondary education.

The data on the chart reflects only those students who are currently in that category or have graduated from college or tech school. The data does not represent students who started college and dropped out. Only those in school or with degrees are grouped. If a student didn't finish school they were put in the correct category, for example, work, military, etc..

